BRIGG'S PATENT

FENCE MACHINE,

POR turning Fence Pickets and other articles of wood of a cylindrical form.

The understand continue to operate the above Machinery at "Winoseki City," where they would be happy to furnish purchases with some of their varieties of Paron, garden or ornamental Fence.—
They will also work up Lumber upon shares or by the told for those who wish.

Owing to the advantages which they derive in the use of the above improvement, they are enabled to afford a near and beautiful fence for yards and gardens, at couch less exposes that the same can be got up for in any other way, while for duralify it is not excelled by any in common use. This valuable improvement was first brought out in Western New not excelled by any in common use. This valuable improvement was first brought out in Western New York, where it has gone into extensive use and has received the approbation of the Mayor of the city of Buffalo, with many hundreds of the first agreeiburists and others in that part of the State, also of Gov Hubbard, Poet, Jarvis, Jadge Churchill and many others in New Hampshire. In fact wherever it has been introduced it has been highly approved. As a Farm Fense it combines more silvantaises than any other fence ever used. It can be used without posts, and is therefore not affected by the freezing and heaving of the ground. It takes less lumber than now other kind of fence, is a certain protection against all hinds of cattle, is not liable to get out of repair, cannot be blane down, is cassily set up, taken down and removed, without mary.
